NYS Community of Practice on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) in Developmental Disabilities

WHO WE ARE:

AHRC Nassau in partnership with the NYS Council on Developmental Disabilities (CDD), Welfare Research Institute (WRI), New York Alliance for Inclusion and Innovation, and the National Alliance for Direct Support Professionals (NADSP) is establishing a statewide Community of Practice (CoP) on Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) in Developmental Disabilities consisting of five regional teams and an advisory group.

WE ARE SEEKING:

Intellectual and Developmental Disability (IDD) provider agencies, Self-Advocates, and Care Coordination Organizations (CCOs) who are passionate about Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion, or who are willing to learn about the needs of diverse communities to establish real systems change. Regional teams will develop and implement strategies to enhance the quality of care for individuals from various backgrounds with IDD. Through collaboration, innovation, and data driven solutions, the New York State provider system will work together to ensure that people supported, families, and staff are treated equitably with dignity and respect.

SELECTED APPLICANTS WILL:

- Establish Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion best practices within their organization and across New York State.
- Become a part of a vast network of leaders where all stakeholders promote equity in the human services delivery system.
- Create a toolkit of vital resources for the ongoing support of people supported, families, and staff.
- Build the organizational capacity to advance Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion in policies, culture, and daily interactions
- Receive foundational knowledge, via workshops and webinars, from area experts that will further our DEI mission.
